RAILROAD LABORER'S WAGES CUT $50,000,000

13.2 PER CENT CUT ANNOUNCED BY R. R. BOARD

STRIKE VOTE WILL BE CALLED OF 400,000 MEMBERS TO VOTE ON ACCEPTANCE

REPORTED ALL RAILWAY WORK-ERS EXCEPT TRAIN AND YARD
MEN WILL BE SLASHED

(By United Press.)
Chicago, May 29—The strike vote on the $50,000,000 wage cut of maintenance of way railroad workers was planned today, by B. M. Jewell, president of the railroad department of the American Federation of Labor.

Jewell said the 13 and 2-10 per cent wage slash of the 400,000 members of his union announced by the United States railroad labor board would bring pay below a living wage.

"Our rules provide that a vote must be taken before a reduction can be accepted," said Jewell. "I think the men will reject the decision of the board."

Jewell, it was understood, will call a conference in Chicago soon with heads of other unions. It was reported in railroad circles that the pay of all workers, with the exception of yard and train service workers, would be cut soon approximately $100,000,000.

Detroit, May 29—Strike ballots were mailed today to all locals of the United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Railway Workers.

"There can be no question but what vote as the wage cut decision was both unfair and unjust," Edward F. Grable, told the United Press today.

GOVERNMENT WINS SUIT AGAINST THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC

SUPREME COURT HOLDS ACQUISITION OF CENTRAL PACIFIC VIOLATES ANTI-TRUST LAW

(By United Press.)
Washington, May 29—The federal government by decisions of the supreme court today won its big anti-trust suit against the Southern Pacific railway and associated interests.

G. O. P. Old Guard Will Make Stand in Iowa Primaries

(By United Press.)
Washington, May 29—Old guard leaders alarmed by the force of the progressive sweep which lost them the senatorship in Indiana and the governorship in Pennsylvania, have summoned their forces for a determined stand in Iowa against the advance tide.

Since the Indiana and Pennsylvania primaries, revealed the extent of the dissatisfaction with present political conditions, the old guard has been sending out anxious inquiries into the Iowa field where the next important senatorial primary will occur.

Stand pat chieftains here were confident today that Iowa would enable them to discount the Indiana and Pennsylvania results as accidental and isolated examples.

The Iowa primaries will be held June 5, one week hence. Old guard leaders have for weeks been strengthening their lines in that state, foreseeing the loss of Pennsylvania and Indiana.

Iowa voters, therefore, will be called upon to determine whether the progressive movement is to be given general impetus and increase the progressive victories in New Jersey and other states, or whether it is to sustain a setback.

(By United Press.)

It may be officials will admit before steps are taken to begin prosecution—those that are being demanded in the senate and house.

In the meanwhile, criticism of Attorney General Daugherty shows few signs of abatement.

LEGION TO PAY TRIBUTE TO ALL NATION'S HEROES

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., May 29—While the home-folks tomorrow are honoring the soldier dead who rest in the soil of their country, the American Legion overseas is visiting and decorating more than 32,000 graves of Americans who fell and are buried on foreign soil.

Of these graves, 31,499 are located in five cemeteries in France, 488 are in England, 140 in Scotland, 40 in Ireland and one in Spain.

Several thousands of dollars have been sent to the Legion's committee in Paris, of which Cabot Ward, an American attorney, is chairman, to be expended on flowers and flags for the decoration of A. E. F. graves. Local committees in England, Scotland and Ireland and several in France will visit the cemeteries and minister personally to each grave.

Many parents of American soldiers killed and buried overseas have requested decoration of their graves with particular kinds of flowers or with individual floral arrangements. Most of them have requested the Legion to supply them with photographs of the graves so decorated, and the request is being complied with. For the larger part, however, the overseas graves will be decorated alike, the highest officer and the newest private soldier being honored by an American flag and decorations consisting of flowers native to the country in which the grave is located.

Reports to Legion headquarters here also show that Memorial Day will be generally observed tomorrow, both in the North and South. In years previous to the world war, states of the old Confederacy observed different dates for the decoration of graves of Civil War dead than those observed in the North.

The Legion, however, composed of both Northern and Southern soldiers who fought in a common uniform, under a common flag, has adopted May 30 as its official Memorial Day and gradually the date is being adopted in all Southern states as well as those of the North, East and West.

Each year too, the decoration of Civil War graves is being assumed by the world war men as a sacred heritage, with the increasingly rapid passing on of the older veterans.

Commander MacNider's Memorial Day message to the Legion membership, being read tomorrow in the organization's 11,000 posts in the United States and 22 foreign countries, follows:

"Each Memorial Day through the past years we have watched the column of gallant men pass by—proudly bearing their battle flags, fifes swirling, drums rolling—through the streets of the old town. A quiver has run up our backs, we've stepped a little briskeer, our chests out a bit further even though our eyes dimmed for a minute after they had passed. These men marching reverently, proudly to do honor to their fallen comrades, have reminded us that we had many things to be proud and grateful for—that we were citizens of the United States of America and that these men had handed down to us a free nation."

"To us, fellow Legionnaires, this glorious day is a direct inheritance, not only as Americans, but as veterans of a war fought victoriously for a righteous cause and a better world."

"Each man and woman whom we honor on this day won the war for us—their part may have been small and unsung, but to all of them equal honor is due. They gave their all. And as we line up with our post, in our old regimentals—the proudest raiment any American can ever wear, the uniform of our country—think of those Buddies who did not come back, of their mothers and fathers who are watching you, grateful for this little tribute to their boys—our comrades who gave their lives, that we might enjoy the citizenship of this nation."

BLIZZARD FREED OF TREASON CHARGE

JURY ACQUITS MINGO MINE WAR
LEADER AFTER THREE HOUR DELIBERATION

Charlestown, W. Va., May 29—William Blizzard, youthful West Virginia mine leader, was acquitted by a jury here Saturday night of the charge of treason. The jury reported shortly after 9:30 p. m., after being out three hours and a half.

The decision was a big victory for union labor forces, which have regarded the treason trials here growing out of the Logan county mine war last summer as one of their greatest battles of the last decade.

Blizzard had the solid backing of the United Mine Workers, and the coal operators of West Virginia backed the prosecution even to the extent of paying state's witnesses' expenses and attorney's fees, according to testimony at the trial.

A wild demonstration in the little crowded courtroom followed the announcement of the verdict, as the fifth week of the trial closed. It was here more than 60 years ago that John Brown of Kansas was sentenced to death after his raid on Harper's ferry.

AUTOMOBILE BUYING BREAKS OLD RECORD

New York, May 29—The continued enormous sales of automobiles is one of the strangest developments of the last six months. There had been so much unemployment, so many losses last year, that as late as mid-January it was thought that 1922 could be put down for a very adverse year in the motor trades. Instead, fully a dozen companies have broken all previous records for sales, and there is no let-up in the demand in sight. This, in turn, produces a great demand for various kinds of steel, for automobile tires and accessories, for gasoline, and these various lines in turn have their reflection in improved business in other places. Hence, it can be said that the probably highly uneconomical wave of automobile buying has had a directly beneficial result and has hastened the return of prosperity throughout the country.

New Color Scheme for Maps. Within the last few years improvements in the stereoscopic effect of relief maps have been attained by a unique color scheme. The effect is well shown when a square is colored with the reds in the center, and the yellows, greens and blues ranged outside. Such a square appears to the eye to be raised in the center.

If the order of the colors is reversed, the central part of the square appears to be depressed. In arranging the colors the tints are varied by careful graduation.—New York Herald.

"Black Monday." The name given to a memorable Easter Monday in the year 1351, which was very dark, and misty. A great deal of hail fell, and the cold is said to have been so intense that hundreds died from its effects. The name afterward came to be applied to the Monday after Easter of each year. It is also a schoolboy term for the Monday on which school reopens after vacation.—Chicago Journal.

"NAY" IS GREEK FOR "YES"

And in a Number of Other Respects Greece Is Just Topsy-Turvy Land.

Psychology is supposed to interpret all things nowadays and I should very much like a psychological explanation of a very curious way they have in Greece, writes Beverly Nichols in the Outlook.

The Greeks are, and always have been, a people who gesticulate freely when speaking. But it is with an almost uncanny sensation that you suddenly realize that their gesticulations mean precisely the opposite of our own.

Watch a man in the street calling to a friend. Instead of beckoning to him—that is, instead of crooking his finger and drawing it toward him—he pushes his hands vigorously outward, and then gives a little backward gesture. And if he wants his friend to go away, sure enough he starts to beckon.

It is the land of the wrong way round. For if you are observant you will notice that this trait is repeated a hundred times in the national life. Take the case of language.

One of the great difficulties of learning modern Greek lies in the words "yes" and "no." In the other languages one learns the negative at ways begins with an "n." In French it is non, in German nein, in Spanish and Italian and English it is no. And so when you hear a Greek say nay you think, quite naturally, that he means "no." But nay is the Greek for "yes," and when you want to say "no" you have to make strange noises in your throat which make you feel quite ready to agree to anything.

When you arrive in Athens, you must not expect people to call on you. You have to call on them first and leave cards on quantities of people with highly barbaric names and highly civilized butlers. (The Greeks have a passion for leaving cards, and I have seen an elaborate screen decorated with the names of thousands of callers in the house of a particularly popular hostess.)

Finally, I have just eaten a meal in which we began with a sort of liqueur and ended with white wine and ten. I have just received a letter which was addressed on the envelope to "Esquire Nichols." Have you any need of further proof?

Cold—in the Head and the Heart.
"I suppose there are more fool suggestions for holding love than for curing colds. Every daily paper is full of both, and none of them is any good either for cold hearts or noses."

REV. S. M. KELLY GETS HIGH HONORS

Named Fraternal Delegate to General Assembly of Presbyterian Church in Canada

GENERAL ASSEMBLY MEETING

Also Presided at Alumni Dinner of Presbyterian Clergymen of British Birth and Training

By merging sixteen boards and agencies of the Presbyterian church of the U. S. A. into four organizations the General Assembly of the church, meeting at Des Moines, Iowa, May 18-25, made the most radical change in its organization ever attempted by any large denomination and has thereby set the pace for progressive legislation looking toward efficiency of administration.

A committee of ministers and laymen in the church, headed by Dr. John Timothy Stone of the Fourth Presbyterian church of Chicago, has been at work on the problem for two years. The plan they proposed was sent to the commissioners before they left their homes for the meeting, and was thoroughly discussed and was adopted with only minor changes.

According to the statement of Rev. S. M. Kelly of the First Presbyterian church of this city, local Presbyterians are affected by the change, in that a year hence there will only be four boards for which support will be asked, and although the total expense may not be greatly reduced, the opportunity for increased efficiency will mean that an immense amount more will be accomplished by the same outlay.

Under the plan adopted by the Assembly the Church Board will be: The Foreign Board, which will unite the work carried on by two such boards at the present time one operated by men and the other by the women. In the new board the women will be given 15 out of 40 seats.

The Board of National Missions. This board will have departments which will care for the work previously carried on by the two home boards, men's and women's, the work for colored people, church erection, the work through the chaplains in the army and the navy, and evangelism. The women will also have 15 of the 40 members of this board.

All the educational work of the church will be centralized in the Board of Christian Education in Philadelphia. This will include the work of 57 colleges and the efforts of Christian workers at state universities, scores of schools maintained for Indians, Mountainers, and Negroes, Missionary education, the large work of religious education, especially through Sunday schools, the work of the Board of Temperance and Moral Welfare, the publication interests of the denomination and the special work among the men.

The pension department of the church will continue under the Board of Ministerial Relief and Sustenance, to which will be added the oversight of hospitals, orphanages and homes for the aged of the church.

Several minor activities of the church will be merged in the office of General Assembly, under the direction of the stated clerk of the assembly.

According to the latest reports there was a net increase of 45,000 in the membership of the church during the past year. The gifts to benevolences were $9,339,155, the largest in the history of the church in spite of the depression that was felt throughout the country. Efforts are to be made, however, to stimulate members and churches to pay promptly and regularly their pledges made for the support of this work. Last year more than $44,000 was spent on interest on money borrowed during the summer and fall to anticipate the sums which came later from the churches. This waste would have supported 30 more missionaries.

Strong resolutions were adopted urging censorship of moving pictures at the time of production, urging members not to patronize theatres in which suggestive plays are shown, against repeal or weakening of the Volstead act, and calling upon all Christians for increased activity in support of all laws.

On the recommendation of the standing committee on correspondence and fraternal relations, Rev. S. M. Kelly of the local church was elected as the fraternal delegate to the general assembly of the Presbyterian church in Canada which will meet in June. Although there were a number of other names before the committee, it recognized Mr. Kelly's seven years of Canadian ministry as especially hitting him for the post and placed his name alone on the list in its recommendations to the assembly. Local Presbyterians and the city of Brainerd are both honored by the election.

A feature of the assembly is the number of alumni dinners that are held during the ten days and, in view of the fact that a great many of the Presbyterian clergy are of British birth and training, the commissioners and visitors to the assembly of British birth have had an annual dinner for a number of years. Rev. Kelly was chosen this year to preside at the dinner which was held at the Fort Des Moines hotel. At the dinner were men of Scotch, Irish, Welsh, Canadian, Australian and New Zealand birth. Dr. Murdock Mackenzie, for 32 years a missionary to North Honan, China, and a former Moderator of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church in Canada, being among the number at this dinner.

During the assembly a Presbyterian exposition was held in the auditorium at Des Moines showing the work of all the boards around the world. Addresses were made by missionaries in costume and some of the work carried on by the church in 43 languages in this country and and 94 languages abroad, to say nothing of the hundreds of dialects, was pictured in a very graphic way. A pageant by Des Moines Presbyterians also attracted much attention.

Saltee-Johnson

A very beautiful wedding took place Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, at the home of Mrs. Hannah Johnson, 514 South 5th street when her daughter Jessie S. M. Johnson and John Oscar Saltee were united in marriage.

Miss Thelma Reis played the wedding march. The bride's sister Miss Mabel Johnson was the bridesmaid. Edgar Olson was the best man. Rev. O. S. Winter, pastor of the Bethlehem Lutheran church, and Rev. M. L. Hostager of Two Harbors, former pastor of Bethlehem Lutheran church were the officiating ministers. The ring ceremony was used.

The bride wore a gown of pussy willow taffeta, sand collar, and carried a bouquet of pink roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid wore a white canton crepe gown and carried a bouquet of white roses.

After the wedding a most delicious luncheon was served to members of the families and a few guests.

The couple drove to Little Falls in the evening where they took the train for Minneapolis, Chicago and other eastern points. Their two weeks' honeymoon will be spent at New Orleans and Mobile, a 3,000 mile trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Saltee will make their home in Bemidji, where they will reside at 719 Minnesota Ave.

Their many friends wish them a long and happy married life.

Edling-Muenzer

A very happy wedding took place at the home of Mrs. Anna Edling at 608 South Fifth street on Sunday evening when her son Richard and Miss Myrtle Muenzer of Minneapolis were joined in wedlock, Rev. J. E. Cadwell officiating. The young people left on the morning train for Backus where Mr. Edling has charge of the Minnesota & International railway station.

German Lutheran Ladies Aid

The ladies of the German Bethlehem Evangelical Aid will meet Wednesday the 31st at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Boppel in the country. Be at the church basement, corner Main and Bluff avenue, at 1:30 p. m. There will be a chance to get there.

Uncle Tom's Cabin Coming

Terry's Big Uncle Tom's Cabin Tent show is billed to appear at Brainerd for one grand night performance only Friday, June 2.

The Terry company is well known as the largest and oldest producers of Uncle Tom's Cabin, the world has ever known, and are now on their thirty-second year of everlasting success.

The play is produced in its entirety from the original manuscript of Mrs. Stowe, with a capable company of seventy-five actors, singers, dancers and musicians, including America's foremost colored talent and presenting a vivid picture of the old south before the war, with its old plantations, the Swannee river by moonlight, with the singing dancing and darky pastimes, the famous Louisiana levee scene, the thrilling steamboat race between the Robert E. Lee and the Natchez. Legree's Red River plantation, introducing for the first time in America a genuine cotton gin and press in full operation. The scenic equipment of the Terry company is complete, never before has its equal been seen.

There will be a grand street parade at noon on day and date of exhibition.

BANKERS ASK BERLIN TO CURB INFLATION

Paris, May 27.—The Morgan committee of bankers, into whose hands the reparations question has been largely shifted, got down to serious business at the Hotel Astoria. It informed Dr. Bergmann, who had outlined the negotiations between Germany and the reparations commission over the demands for May 31, that it would also demand a stoppage of German currency inflation and would seek budgetary equilibrium.

The bankers then embarked on a profound study of the financial and commercial situation in Germany along the following lines:

The exact extent of German resources and the net productivity and how this productivity might be influenced by internal and external conditions.

Then to decide how much reparations Germany can really pay, regardless of the London schedule or other existing agreements.

The prospect of Allied interference with German productivity through the maintenance of large military forces in the Rhineland or through Allied sanctions.

The extent of markets for German goods throughout the world and how they will be affected by exchanges and tariffs on German production costs.

The nature of guarantees Germany might offer to reassure payment of a loan and Allied pledges against interference with German production.

After this investigation, which will continue five or six weeks, the bankers will lay down conditions under which one or more international loans for Germany can be floated. It is clearly recognized that such loans will amount to the conversion of the German war debt and they have dangerous political potentialities, although purely commercial loans. The responsibility for collections would be shifted from the Allies to the lenders.

The effect of this new arrangement which would gradually replace the reparations payments under the London schedule of $33,000,000,000 would be to advance by years the money due from Germany.

The deliberations of the bankers will be kept a tight secret because of the effect any constructive arrangement would have on exchanges.

BEADED BLOUSE FOR MATRON

Styling Along Domestic Lines, Strictly Cut; Softened by Embroidery Combinations.

In the collection of blouses, beads play the largest share in making up the decorations. It is pointed out that the waists are made up, not with the young woman principally in mind, but with the thought of the matron, and for this reason the styling is along quite domestic lines, strictly cut, rather than in the French spirit usually associated with the beaded model.

The use of beads is softened in many cases by embroidery combinations, while there are likewise plain embroideries, with the more extreme novelty registered in one or two models worked out in wool instead of silk floss. One of these shows a color combination of canna with a great plaque of gray embroidered on with the wool.

Canna and similar reddish tones, ranging down through peachblossom to mirabella, are lavishly spread throughout this collection. The canna is perhaps the most notable, either used alone with bead trimming or made the principal tone in parti-colored treatments, combining with the gray as mentioned above, or with bisque.

On such a model the lower part of both the body of the waist and the peasant sleeves is of the bisque, with the majority of the beading placed thereon. Ribbonzine braiding figures in a similar style in canna and gray, with the sleeves made wide at the bottom.

The lighter colors go into the making of some of the allover beaded numbers, such as mauve beaded in black and steel or mirabella dotted with pointed ovals made of the jet beads.

DAUGHERTY SERVING ENDS OF JUSTICE

OUR participation in the World war, with its imperious necessities, urgent haste, and innumerable opportunities for fraud, is bearing its fruit in hundreds of fraudulent contracts which have been unearthed by Attorney General Daugherty. Many contracts were left to be liquidated at the close of the war and the settlement of these contracts with justice to the government is one of the most serious duties laid upon the present Attorney General. These cases, however important, are those of ordinary business and civil process, but fraud practiced against the government in time of war, robbery of the people, is intolerable, and the guilty parties must be punished.

The investigation of these fraudulent cases, with the indictment and prosecution of the offenders, becomes the cardinal duty of the Department of Justice, and the Attorney General, in doing his plain duty, ought to be encouraged and sustained, not criticized or attacked. A personal or political animus has been clearly shown by some of his opponents, of whom the most conspicuous are Republicans.

The Attorney General and his assistants have wisely prepared their cases carefully. They were entitled to ample time. The ends of justice, not of the fall elections, are to be served by their act. It is not a question as to whether the guilty parties are Republicans or Democrats—that is not to be considered. Without political intention, prejudice or passion, these cases should be heard and tried. The ultimate verdict will be given on the evidence, by public opinion. The prosecution is not going to give any consideration to the question of what party is helped or hurt, but if the evidence shows that the defendants are guilty every effort will be made to convict them without regard to their politics. This is as it should be.

ANYTHING TO DEFEAT TARIFF BILL

THE observant reader no doubt has noticed that just at present the Democrats in Congress are searching zealously for any sort of excuse to introduce any kind of extraneous subject into the discussions in order that time may be consumed. Although the tariff bill is supposedly under consideration, they seize upon any subject that arises in order to occupy the floor and delay a vote on each particular item of the bill as it comes up. If they had the privilege of calling members of the Cabinet upon the floor, as proposed, they could easily, for example, call the Attorney General and question him at length, day after day, regarding the prosecution of war graft cases, and call each Cabinet member and question him regarding the expenditures in his department in detail.

The tariff bill is primarily a revenue measure, and, since it is a revenue measure, public expenditures could be construed to be germane subject for discussion. By this circuitous line of reasoning the Democratic filibuster could be made to find its chief time-consuming powers in interrogation of heads of departments if they were permitted to attend the sessions as proposed.

Our friends the enemy are simply playing politics in their efforts to delay or defeat the proposed protective tariff bill, solely for the purpose of discrediting the Republican party, for its effect at the coming November elections.

SECRETARY OF LABOR OPTIMISTIC

SECRETARY DAVIS, in a statement based on reports of employment conditions to the Department of Labor, draws a picture of steadily reviving business activity throughout the country. The reports indicate that unemployment has been "practically eliminated" in New York state; it has been reduced more than 50 per cent in the last three months in Pennsylvania, while "the swan song of business depression has given way to a cheerful note of improved industrial activity" in Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, Michigan, Illinois, Kansas and Missouri.

Mr. Davis says also that there is "unmistakable evidence" of improved industrial activity in Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, while in the South the reports show steady improvement in Georgia, Tennessee and Alabama, and that practically no unemployment now exists in North Carolina.

RURAL FILIPINOS UNCIVILIZED

A LAW to put pantalons on rural Filipinos was recently defeated in the insular legislature at Manila. Which reminds us that Congressman Nick Longworth of Ohio once wrote a parody which he used in his debate on the wool schedule. The last couplet read:

"We can live without cousins, or uncles and aunts,
But civilized man can not live without pants."

Which being conceded, the rural Filipinos are apparently not civilized, nor will they permit themselves to be made so by sumptuary laws.

"EVERY reason for high prices for coal have been removed," our statemen say, but the Kansas City Star is confident that coal will now demonstrate its ability to bring high prices without any reason.

THE OMAHA BEE sizes it up that Europe's disappointment because Uncle Sam is not going to take his bank roll to Europe, means somebody will have to go to work over there.

SOME of the great European statesmen appear to have it figured out that there is real economy in making a debt so large that its payment may be declared impossible.

Experiments in Inbreeding.

In an experiment with 600 white rats belonging to the sixteenth to the twenty-fifth generations of brothers and sisters from the same litter it was found, says Science, that close inbreeding produced no deterioration.

Positively Side-Splitting.

The epidemic is not without its humorous side. Instead of going to church, said elderly men were seen rushing for doctors and medicine. Glasgow Paper.

There will be two shows of "Cardigan" tonight at the Park theatre, one at seven o'clock and one at nine o'clock; one matinee tomorrow at 2:15 and two shows tomorrow night at seven and nine o'clock p. m. Uniform prices for all these shows will be fifty cents.

"Cardigan" is the greatest American picture ever filmed and is a patriotic and educational picture and worth the money. The first showing of this was made this afternoon to a full house of school children.

The program the American Legion has outlined for this evening includes several numbers besides the picture.

The ticket sale for "Cardigan" has met with prompt response from Brainerd citizens and the spirit with which the people of Brainerd have shown to the boys of the American Legion has been very encouraging in the memorial work they propose doing. The hospital which they expect to build for ex-service men is a great undertaking but the boys feel confident they have the backing of all the citizens of the state of Minnesota and feel that the project is so worthy that the efforts they put forth will be well repaid in the great service they will be doing for the disabled and sick men.

Tickets for "Cardigan" can be obtained from any legionnaire or can be bought at the box office of the theater.

BACCALAUREATE SERMON SUNDAY

Delivered to Brainerd High School Class of 1922 and Their Relatives and Friends

BY REV. FRED ERRINGTON
Splendid Program Given, Services Made a Deep Impression on All Attending

Rev. Fred Errington, pastor of the First Congregational church, delivered the baccalaureate sermon Sunday evening at the assembly room of the high school. The class of 1922 has 70 on its roll, one of the largest classes in the history of the school.

The assembly room was filled with relatives and friends of the class. The invocation was delivered by Rev. A. Paulson, pastor of the Swedish Baptist church. The scripture reading was by Rev. Arthur C. Smith, pastor of the First Baptist church. The benediction was by Rev. F. M. Kelly, pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

The musical numbers were selections by the high school orchestra and glee club. The audience joined with them in singing "America" at the close of the services.

The theme of Rev. Errington's address was service and sacrifice. He gave a very eloquent address, which the Dispatch will publish more completely on Wednesday.

BASEBALL BUNTS

Bertha defeated Wadena 2 to 0 on Wadena home grounds. Clemens pitched for Bertha, having two strike outs and allowing but one hit. He had faultless support.

Browerville plays at Wadena on Decoration Day.

Maybe Babe Ruth's idea in throwing dirt at the umpire was to make him bite the dust. It's poor policy to blind the eyes of an ump. Many of them can't see very good, as it is.

A batting eye can only improve through practice.

VERDICT FOR THOS. KEATING

Jury in District Court Case Renders a Verdict of $44,618 for Plaintiff vs Inland Steel Co.

TRIAL LASTED A WHOLE WEEK

Jury Out Saturday from 5:30 P. M. to Midnight, Sealed Verdict Read in Court Monday Morning

In the case of Thomas Keating vs the Inland Steel company, tried in district court last week, the jury returned a sealed verdict near midnight Saturday. The jury had been out from 5:30 p. m. Saturday.

As Judge C. W. Stanton had left Brainerd for the Twin Cities, court was convened Monday morning by Judge W. S. McClenahan and the verdict then read, which awarded the plaintiff $44,618.

The original amount claimed was $212,000, Keating charging that wasteful methods in mining had been used and that the mine, after the lease had been terminated by the Inland Steel company, had been left in poor shape.

The defense had a small army of experts on the stand.

Judge Stanton adjourned court to June 13, at which time a special venire of 36 will be returned and Judge B. F. Wright of Park Rapids will take up the Miller murder case. Miller, in a trial at Bemidji, before Judge Stanton, followed up with a successful motion for a new trial and a change of venue to Brainerd.

On June 27 Judge Stanton will again take up his calendar, including a number of jury cases, followed then by the court cases.

The Phrase "All Aboard."

The origin of the phrase "Going on board" can be traced back to the Ice-landic, and it was probably introduced into Anglo-Saxon by Vikings. In the original tongue word was understood to mean the side of a ship.

Heavy Hitting Characterized the Game Played at Browerville Sunday Afternoon

MOLSTAD PITCHED FOR LOCALS

Battery Mate Was Gaskill, Browerville had Keegan Pitching and "Red" Frank Catching

Browerville beat Brainerd 11 to 9 in a game at Browerville Sunday afternoon characterized by heavy hitting on both sides. It was anybody's game until the finish.

The battery for Brainerd was Molstad and Gaskill. Browerville had as its pitcher Keegan and his battery mate was "Red" Frank, well known to fans of Brainerd.

GAME CALLED A DRAW

Dispatch Informant Forgot to Bring in the Score in Married Men vs Single Men

The Married Men and Single Men again battled in baseball at West Brainerd Sunday afternoon. Until late at night there were knots of fans on the corners talking it over. The Dispatch scout who saw the game from a knothole in the fence said the players called it a draw, but the score wasn't brought in to the office. It is hoped to have some kind of a relay system so that hereafter at least the score gets across the bridge.

"The umpire, who was a married man (or intended to be married soon)," said the Dispatch informant, "is believed to have favored the Married Men in his decisions to such an extent that both sides decided to call it a draw and play the game over some other time. A large crowd witnessed the game and joined in roasting the umpire."

BIG DAY AT THE COUNTRY CLUB

Blind Par Contest for Men, and a Putting Contest for Ladies at Brainerd Country Club

STAGED TUESDAY AFTERNOON

First Contest Starts About Noon So As Not to Interfere With Memorial Day Program

Tomorrow will be a big day at the Brainerd Country club golf grounds. Starting in with blind par contest for men, and a putting contest for ladies, with a small entry fee of 25c, the club hopes to draw to the grounds the largest attendance in its history.

"Jock" Dryburgh, instructor of the club also in charge of getting the grounds in shape, says the grounds are in first class shape, having been cut over with a new mower.

A large number of two-somes are being arranged, and Mr. Dryburgh hopes that every one will show up at the game. Every member of the club should consider it a personal obligation to attend this first tournament, especially those members who have as yet not become players. The whole success of the club depends upon attendance.

The first contest will start about noon, so there will be no conflict with Memorial exercises of the morning.

At the golf links Sunday was a group of St. Cloud people and other tourists. They said they thought the course was in excellent shape and were surprised at the progress made within one season at Brainerd.

Cars should be parked at the site designated. Several of the golfing parties anticipate having a picnic supper at the grounds in the evening.

AMUSEMENTS

"The Woman's Side"

The most successful picture of today is not the picture which entertains momentarily, but is the film which entertains and subconsciously leaves its imprint upon the mind of the picturegoer.

Today there are eighty million picture fans in the United States and the vast majority of them have become screen critics of no mean ability. For this reason a producer can no longer film a meaningless picture and keep up his good reputation. Pictures must be educational along one line or another and must be told in such a gripping manner that they will not be forgotten.

With these ideas in mind Director J. A. Barry wrote the original story and prepared the scenario of "The Woman's Side," Katherine MacDonald's latest First National starring vehicle.

This picture, "The Woman's Side," is built on foundation the cornerstone of which is the average American home. It is a story that will entertain and inspire because it has a plot based upon a fundamental idea which, I think, is sure to start discussions in which the average American is qualified to participate.

"The Woman's Side" will begin an engagement of two days at the New Park Wednesday.

Wm. S. Hart at the Lyceum Tonight

Touches of great charm and whimsical character relieve the serious nature of "The Whistle." William S. Hart's latest production for Paramount, which will be the feature at the Lyceum theatre for tonight and Tuesday.

For example, a factory whistle,

W.S. HART

shown in a close-up, symbolizes the story and sets the title.

Bill Hart, as Robert Evans, factory foreman, is awakened by his small son in the gray hours of morning, by being pummeled and pounded with a pillow wielded by the youngster.

A beautiful scene of a great day, the interior of a big factory, lovey grounds of a palatial home, a thrilling fight between Mr. Hart and a burly opponent; a plunge of a limousine through an open drawbridge into a river—these incidents keep the spectators keyed up to a point of tensity.

"Sentimental Tommy"

Sir James M. Barrie's "Sentimental Tommy," has been produced by John S. Robertson for Paramount with a cast that embraces several of the best players of the stage and screen. This picture, which is said to possess much heart interest and Barrie charm, will be the bill at the Lyceum theatre for two days starting Wednesday next.

Gareth Hughes, who is seen in the title role, is a young Welshman, who came to America in 1914 with an English company and has since displayed such marked talent that he is recognized as a leading juvenile of the country. He was chosen out of hundreds of possibilities for an exacting role in "Caliban," which was given at the City College Stadium, New York, for the Shakespeare Tercentenary celebration.

COAT DRESS IS TO BE IN LEAD

Many Points in Favor of Garment
Are Enumerated by Fashion Correspondent.

CAN BE MADE BY DRESSMAKER

Outfit Is Often More Becoming Than the Tailored Suit of Harder Lines and More Visible
Stitching.

The coat dress has long been a rising factor in the wardrobe of the American woman. Those who have worn them have loved them dearly, have known that dresses of this general character could not be duplicated in any way. But their champions have been few and far between until the coming of the present season. Now observes a fashion correspondent in the New York Times, it looks very much as though the coat dress will lead them all.

For the spring season especially it has many attributes. It is warm enough without being too warm. It has the chic of a certain tailoring without being of too hard and fast a tailor's rule. It is trim looking, and, above all, it is so perfectly suited to all of the city outdoor activities which are so prevalent at just this season.

Then, there are many and various materials from which the coat dress can be made. It is as good in twill as it is in duvetyne. It is excellent in homespun, and it finds one of its finest expressions in some of the heavier silks. In fact, it offers the well dressed woman an opportunity to show her talent for dressing without any exterior coverings to mar the general effect.

As the openings of American designers show their newer creations to the world, more and more of this type of street frocks are to be seen, and from the enthusiasm of the women who are looking at them with a view to buying there seems to be no doubt that they will be eminently successful.

Does Not Require Tailor.

The coat dress is something which does not necessarily require a tailor to make satisfactorily. It is a dress which a clever dressmaker can do quite as well, and for that reason, it is often more becoming than the tailored suit of harder lines and more visible stitching. Also the fabrics for coat dress being of the softest possible texture, they then fall more closely in harmony with the lines of the figure and help a woman to appear at her most graceful best.

There is a coat dress made of satin and duvetyne, the upper section being composed of the former material and the lower of the latter. Then you can see at a glance how cleverly the ends of the full, puffed sleeves have been handled in order to repeat the heavier fabric there and to carry out the styling.

Striped Lining of Coat Dress Comes

plity of the design of the coat. The color of this particular coat dress was dark blue, the upper section being of that same tone. Then the satin of that bodice portion was carried down underneath the skirt section to make its lining. The lining was carried out to the very edge, so that when the skirt of the dress bobbed back and forth as its wearer walked along the street there appeared now and again that shiny glint of the satin that gave the frock lightness and ease and a decided gracefulness.

The neck of this dress is one of those exaggerated bateau lines that are allowed to stand straight around the throat. And in this case the satin is faced with the duvetyne, which gives, at that point, just a little variety of quality without in any way suggesting trimming. In fact, the only attempt at getting away from the solidity of two materials is when the buttons, only two in number, are added. They are of distinctly shiny dark blue composition, which adds variety of tone and a finish which happens to be just right.

Hat Matching the Gown.

The hat, then, is made from dark blue satin, matching that which has been used for the dress. It is trimmed in that very new fashion of raising the mass of white flowers in front above the measure of the soft crown which gives that "snappy" little air so necessary to the smartest dressing of the season.

Into many of the coat dresses the general tendency for draping has been carried with a great deal of success. And this idea is perfectly illustrated by another coat dress made of a taupe-colored wool velours, in the lightest of its weights. Of course this material drapes better than any other woolen fabric, and it is no wonder that the designer has chosen it to carry out this model. Much in the manner of the draped afternoon and evening frocks, this coat dress has been wrapped around the figure until

of Blue Duvetyne and Satin.

It has achieved a shape that is entirely consistent with the figure that wears it. The coat has that surprise, fichu line with a rolling collar carrying out the outline, and it ends in a bunch of draping over one hip where the fastening is marked by a brilliant green jade buckle. The fringing at the lower ends of the drapery is of the same shade of taupe from which the dress is made.

The lining of this coat dress is, perhaps, its most interesting feature. It is composed of a striped silk in colors of gold and green, with many varying shades of these tones woven into the pattern. The design takes a naive turn when the lining suddenly appears from its hiding place and proceeds to constitute the lower sections of the sleeves in lieu of large and spreading cuffs.

Ready for Wear at Any Time.

Women who have succumbed to the coat dress are stating positively that they like it better for street wear than any other sort of costume. They say it means so much to have one garment do the whole trick. They like the idea of having only to adjust one set of hooks and eyes, one set of one collar and one snap at the waistline before their dressing operations are complete. You know there is a great deal in that, especially if you happen to be busy all day long and when the elimination of labor in your dressing becomes something to be striven for.

A dress of this sort, once it has been completed by a designer who knows his business, is ready for wear at any moment, and with the minimum amount of toil it can be snapped into place with no trouble about collars and cuffs or waists and skirts or any of those nuisances to which women have become so accustomed that sometimes they fail to see how possible it is to do without them.

A French dress made in this coat dress manner had the interesting design of a simple chemise dress. Of course it had tremendous sleeves to make it look more like the thing it was, but other than that it has every resemblance to the little frock which has held its popularity through so many changes and chances.

Its sleeves were embroidered over their entire surfaces with bright Russian colors and there was a belt, quite wide and straight, posed down low over the hips, which held the coat in that form known as a Russian blouse. There was a high standing collar, loose around the throat, and this carried out the same colored embroiderings, closing at the side where the whole coat opened in a straight line reaching from shoulder to hem.

Still another coat dress was made of one of those soft English tweeds woven in stripes of dull blue and a warm tan. The stripes reversed their natural way of life and ran around and around instead of up and down. This frock, while it was lined with soft satin in an old blue tone, had no other vestige of trimming anywhere about it. The stripes were allowed to do their decorative work unmolested, and they succeeded in doing it in an entirely satisfactory manner.

His Time.

There is a story told of Mark Twain's boyhood. He was staying with his brother, who was a model Christian. One morning, shortly after the family were seated at breakfast the voice of the young boy was heard from upstairs: "Has the Scripture lesson been read?" he shouted. "Yes," they answered. "Family prayers over?" "Yes." "Grace been said?" "Yes." "All right, I'll be down in a minute."

Cato's Three Laments.

Plutarch says that Cato declared that in his whole life he most repented of three things: one was that he had trusted a secret to a woman; another, that he went by water when he might have gone by land; the third, that he had remained one whole day without doing any business of importance.

Interested.

Doctor—"I would advise you, dear madam, to take frequent baths, plenty of fresh air and dress in cool gowns." Husband (an hour later)—"What did the doctor say?" Wife—"He said I ought to go to a watering place and afterward to the mountains and to get some new light gowns at once."—Filigende Blatter.

Afraid of It.

"You had a good start at college; you were on the highway to a well-rounded education. Why did you give it up?" "I heard that it was folly to be wise."

Future Sale Assured.

A small boy looked longingly into a store window where a shining new bicycle was displayed. Shyly he entered and, approaching the proprietor, said: "If you'll keep that bicycle till I'm grown up to be a big man I'll buy it of you."

VETERAN OF CIVIL WAR
REVEALS HEALTH SECRETTells of Wonderful Remedy That Has Kept Him Fit for Thirty Years

The Civil War ended more than fifty years ago, and the veterans of that great conflict are rapidly passing. The soldiers of that period endured many hardships, were exposed to the elements and in many cases, were ill fed. These conditions led to chronic ailments of all kinds, such as rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica, constipation, heart trouble and diseases of the kidneys and liver.

One veteran, Mr. Abram

Arnold, R.F.D. No. 2, Campbell, N. Y., now in his 77th year and hale and hearty, tells how he has kept himself in good health. He writes:

"I have made use of Dr. A. W. Chase's medicines for 25 or 30 years and during that time they have never failed to do all that is recommended of them. I am a veteran of the Civil War—almost 77 years old, and was through fifteen hard fought battles, but am still living with the help of Dr. A. W. Chase's Tonic Pills. I have a bad heart, and find these pills of wonderful benefit for this trouble. Any one wishing further particulars may write me, and I will gladly reply, as I want people to know of this wonderful remedy."

You can buy Dr. A. W. Chase's remedies at all drug stores. Be sure of getting the genuine, see that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on each box. This is a trade mark for your protection against imitations. —Advertisement.
